Frames

Built to last a lifetime, it all begins with our stationary, sectional pier frames. Their design uses only the highest quality materials and has been time tested on the water for decades. Combining old-world craftsmanship with modern production techniques, produces frames that provide you with maximum stability, durability, and ease of use.

- Our frames and legs are constructed from marine grade hot-dipped galvanized steel for maximum strength and corrosion resistance
- Hot dipped galvanized steel resists corrosion for over 50 years in the water. All of our components and welds are strong and fully protected (Source: American Galvanizers Assoc.)
- Our hinge system quickly and securely links sections together without tools making installation and removal very easy
- Unique flared legs and truss designs significantly increase steadiness and reduces "wobble" found in ordinary piers
- Designed with storage in mind, our frames nest together in a 4' x 6' stack to reduce shoreline clutter
- Legs have 21" of adjustability to adapt to changing water conditions and are easily leveled with a single tool
- Cupped footplates ensure grip with the bottom in all conditions and protect swimmers' feet
- Endless configurations are possible and can be installed on virtually any type of shoreline
- Clearwater Piers provides a rare limited lifetime structural warranty on all our frames. Every frame passes a comprehensive quality inspection process before leaving our facility
